Marconi Memorial On Sixteenth Street Is Given Approval

Fine Arts Commission And Park Service Accept Design

A granite and bronze memorial in honor of Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, will be erected at Sixteenth and Lamont streets N.W., according to an announcement by Secretary of Interior Ickes yesterday.

The site was approved after the Fine Arts Commission and the National Park Service accepted the memorial design as proposed by the Marconi Memorial Foundation, Inc. The memorial will consist of a base of "stone creek" granite and a pair of pedestals.

A bust of the inventor, 3 feet 8 inches in height, will top the smaller pedestal, the latter about 7 feet high. The larger pedestal, 13 feet 5 inches high, will be surmounted by a bronze figure of a woman symbolizing electricity. The bronze figure will reach 9 feet above the top pedestal.

The sculptor is Attilio Piccirilli, the architect is Joseph H. Freedman, and the landscape architect, Joseph C. Gardner.

More than $35,000 has been raised for the memorial through the Marconi Memorial Foundation, Inc. General Pope, head of the foundation, announced in New York yesterday.

Mr. Pope said the unveiling of the monument is expected to take place within the next three months.

The plot to be used for the site is in front of the Mount Pleasant branch library under the authorization of Congress in 1938. The memorial will face as nearly as possible down Sixteenth street and the plot will be landscaped to provide suitable setting.

Marconi was born in Bologna, Italy, in 1874. He died in 1937. He took out the first patent on wireless telegraphy based on electric waves in England in 1896. First transatlantic use of his invention was in 1901 when signals were sent between Poldhu in Cornwall, England, to St. John's in Newfoundland.

WIFE AND DAUGHTERS. CARTER, NORMAN. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, NORMAN CARTER, who departed this life one year ago today, March 14, 1940.

We have lost our dear, sweet husband and father. He no more on earth shall roam; And there he waits for us to come. Who can take his place at home? Father's life was true and faithful; And his heart was filled with love; Trusting Jesus as his Saviour; Till he joined Him up above. Some day we shall go to meet him; Where there'll be no more good-byes; I can think of nothing sweeter Than our meeting in the skies. Oh, dear father, how we miss you; But no more on earth you roam; Some sweet day we'll be with you; In that bright eternal home.

DEATH. DEATH. In loving remembrance
